Paulson to Cross the Sea in a Tiny Skiff, Sloop Rigged.

RAHWAY, N. J.; July 28.—Christian Paulsen, a bullding contractor, of this place, and a descendant of the intrepid Vikings, has announced his intention of navigating the Atlantic in one of the tiniest crafts that any one has yet dared to brave the dangers of the ocean in.

It is a mere skiff, the dimensions being.

Then, without calling any of the doctors to witness the operation, he made a hypodermic injection into his arm of some fluid, but what the fluid was the laboratory authorities say. Dr. Watkins alone knows. They characterize his theories and claims as "moonshine."

On the other hand Dr. Watkins says that his intention to apply the phthisis was well known to Dr. Buxton, manager of the laboratory, who prepared the solution. He said he never received any encouragement at the laboratory to prosecute his investigations on his own lines and theories.

Dr. Watkins claims the credit of having discovered what in medical science is known as the third corpuscle, which is found, according to his theory, only in persons whose blood is impure.

He further contends that consumptive germs will not thrive on a system where this third corpuscle is not present.

Powers, rector of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church at Towson, Baltimore County, has filed a bill of separation of partial divorce from his wife, Mrs Louise Sheffey Powers, and for the care and custody of his children. Mr. Powers also asks for an injunction to restrain his wife from entering the house or interfering with him in its poshouse or interfering with him in its possession.

The bill alleges in part "that the defendant is unhapply possessed of a disposition and temper which is ungovernable, and which vents itself upon the plaintiff and children and the domestics whom he is compelled to employ in such gusts of passion, accompanied by such profane and abusive and offensive language, and with rude violence and threats of serious bodily injury, that they are frequently compelled to leave the house and seek refuge elsewhere."

Mrs. Powers was arrested Wednesday night about 12 o'clock on the complaint of J. Harry Little, of Towson, at whose house her crippled infant has been taken care of. She was bound over in $200 ball to keep the peace.
